Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H R Hoagland we feel pleasure in affirming the public that in our judgment it is decidedly the best self adjusting shaft coupling that has ever been used
It first rate with the least resistance to the horses and is entirely free from the annoyance of rattling noises and disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the attachments can be entirely free from the shafts when any vehicle is in use and with small expense We have confidence in recommending this new invention as a decided improvement in the mode of attaching shafts to vehicles

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 4

CONGRESSIONAL

WASHINGTON March 4—In the House [illegible] to-day reported in the early morning hours [illegible] to-day [illegible] to-day [illegible] to-day

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING MARCH 6 1870

Unpleasant Fact for the Democratic Press

And now comes the Albany Democrat with other discussion on the national debt that paper will not believe that the debt is increasing and to establish its theory it resorts to such statements as the following:

The debt total reported by telegraph for September was $2,647,032,682—over $13,000,000 more than in October. We believe there was no total reported for January, but that of February is put by the same authority (the telegraph) at $2,657,258,211—over $3,000,000 more than that of December.

These remarks by the Democrat show that that paper has never taken trouble to examine the perfectly simple and satisfactory method of stating the debt which Secretary Boutwell has adopted. Had it ever made this examination it could not have blundered so egregiously. The error it falls into is caused by not following the Secretary's monthly statements through to their conclusion. By stopping in the middle of the statements and failing to deduct from the debt the amount of bonds purchased for the sinking fund, and now in the Treasury, the Democrat makes out that the debt is growing larger each month. We will make its error so plain that there will be no need of our recurring to it again.

Take the debt statement for December. The total at that date was $2,648,234,682. In this, however was included all the bonds purchased for the sinking fund amounting to nearly $80,000,000. These bonds are thus included in every statement of the gross amount of the debt; for though they are the absolute property of the Government and lie in the vaults of the Treasury, the interest is paid on them regularly, and that interest is used in purchasing still more bonds for the same fund. Thus the Government pays this interest to itself. When the Secretary comes, however, to that part of his statement where he gives the net amount of the debt, he deducts these bonds on hand from the gross amount, and this remainder, still further diminished by subtracting the cash on hand, shows each month the net actual indebtedness of the country. On December 1st his statement read thus:

Total debt, principal and interest	$2,648,234,682
Cash in Treasury and bonds purchased for sinking fund	191,674 947
Debt less cash and sinking fund in the Treasury	$2,453 559,735

In making up the statement for March, which has just been received by telegraph, all the bonds purchased for the sinking fund during the past year were included as before, and the aggregate gross amount thus presented. Of course this would make the gross statement as large as that of December. In fact it is slightly larger, which is owing mainly to an increased issue of certificates of gold deposited. But when we come as before to that part of the statement which gives the net amount of debt, we find all the bonds purchased for the sinking fund and the cash in the Treasury deducted from the gross amount, which shows that the net amount is smaller by $9,288,258 than it was last December, and smaller by $87,189,782 than it was last March.

As the Democrat particularly inquires why the total gross amount of debt has shown a slight increase during the past few months we will inform that paper that this fact is attributable to an increase of fractional currency and an increased issue of certificates of gold deposited. Thus, last October the amount of fractional currency was $33,000,000; it now amounts to about $40,000,000. Again, the gold certificates last October amounted to $24,000,000, they now amount to $38,000,000. These facts account for the increase in the gross amount which the Democrat inquires about; but the amount of bonds go ahead for the sinking fund during this period has been so much greater than the increase in these two items that the net amount of debt still shows a large reduction.

We are well aware of the fact that it goes hard with our Democratic papers to admit that the debt is actually being reduced at a very rapid rate, but the unalterable, incorrigible fact is against them, and they might as well give it up.

The Chinese Bugbear.

From the Corvallis Mercury

Will the Oregonian deny the right of the Chinaman to take out naturalization papers? And will that paper gainsay the fact, that, under the papers of the fifteenth Amendment all the States are forbidden to discriminate, in distributing the voting franchise, against any class of citizens on account of race or color, and will the same paper undertake to controvert the fact that Chinamen may become voters by virtue of all this machine work? Will the Oregonian answer?

The OREGONIAN will answer, disagreeable as it is to be bored with idle questions. The Chinaman cannot now take out naturalization papers. Nor can he do so after the Fifteenth Amendment is legally proclaimed. That amendment will not change his status in the smallest degree. It applies only to citizens, and the native of China cannot become a citizen of the United States. The Corvallis paper seems to think that there has heretofore been a constitutional barrier to Chinese suffrage which the Fifteenth Amendment will remove. This is a great error. There is not and never has been any barrier in the Constitution to Chinese suffrage. Without the Fifteenth Amendment the naturalization laws could be so amended by Congress as to make citizens of Chinese, and any State that might see fit could allow them to vote. The Fifteenth Amendment does not repeal the law which prevents them from being naturalized nor does it prevent the requirement by the States of qualifications that would exclude them from the ballot if that law were repealed. Chinese cannot become citizens under the amendment any easier than without it, and it is utterly ridiculous to jumble these things together, as is done by the Democratic press. We notice such questions as those propounded by the Mercury not on account of any real importance attaching to them but only because they are the sole stock in trade of a party which is contesting for control of the State.

Editorial Notes

It would seem that the country is really on the verge of specie payments. Movements in various cities are reported by telegraph which look like resumption of this policy. Confidence everywhere in the financial stability and soundness of the country is increasing. So much for an honest financial policy.

Congressman Smith writes from Washington that he does not desire a renomination. No doubt he feels that he is of very little consequence there that he can accomplish nothing and that nobody notices him and therefore he wants to get out of an unpleasant situation as soon as possible. A Democratic representative in either branch of Congress in these times is in a position which is uncomfortable to himself and where he is of no profit to his constituents.

It is understood now that Mr. Hilton has returned that work on the railroad will be renewed at several points with increased activity and vigor. It is the intention that the cars shall run into Albany this year and all preparations are made for resuming this work. If there are any Swedish people about they may as well prepare to put up the way.

We suppose the Democratic State convention assembled at Albany will pronounce either for payment of the national debt in greenbacks or downright repudiation. Greenbacks however, have advanced so nearly to the value of specie that there is no longer anything to be made by paying in greenbacks. Repudiation would seem therefore to be the last resource of the Democracy.

Will the people of Oregon take notice of the fact that the Democratic policy in Congress is that of resolute opposition to grants of land for internal improvements? With this fact so patent why should they desire to send Democrats to the National Capital as their representatives to still further strengthen this hostility to a policy which would advance the material interests of the State?

Col. Chapman is said to be a candidate for Governor, and he comes before his party bearing the whole labor interests of the State on his Atlantean shoulder. Holding as he thinks all the working men of the State at his call, he challenges his party to ignore him if it dares. He wants them to understand that if he the great coryphaeus of labor, is not honored with a nomination the party may as well make up its mind to do without every workingman's vote. And he, their slighted champion, will hold back, like Achilles sulking in his tent, and let the party go to ruin. This is a fearful dilemma for a party to be in and it is understood that the champion of the Knights of the Horny Hand is inexorable.

Newspaper Topics

The Corvallis Mercury has an article on "Temperance Agitation," in which the editor puts the case strongly by saying "It is needless for us to sermonize on the baneful effects of intemperance." Entirely needless.

The Salem Press has an article on the death of ex-Gov. Moore, in which the writer says: "It was our good fortune to enjoy intimate personal relations with the deceased, and we have rarely known a man of nobler sentiments or truer integrity." Surely that poet was a keen observer who wrote.

> Some weep to share the fame of the deceased,
> So high in merit and to them so dear
> They dwell on virtues which they think they share
> And thus withont a blush commend themselves.

It is well known that the Democratic managers have been "importing" voters in large numbers for several weeks into Benton and Polk counties. The Albany Democrat tries to raise a dust to cover this movement by asserting that the Republicans are "colonizing," and by characterizing their alleged action as a "shameful attempt to override the will of Benton county." How much virtue there is among the Democracy up there, to be sure!

The Herald has an article a column in length to which it gives the caption, "Our Railroad Interests." But no one on reading the article would be able to perceive that it has anything to do with the topic announced. It is an attempt to reply to an article on "Railways and Party Politics" which appeared in the OREGONIAN on Saturday, but it makes no point that the most diligent reader can discover. There may be and doubtless there is, great ability in writing more than a column without saying anything at all pertinent to the subject announced.

The Oregon City Enterprise has an article which fills over a column on Whittemore, the South Carolina Congressman who was found guilty of selling a cadetship. The infamy of this transaction very properly schocks the Enterprise. We presume, however, that its article was written before it heard that those shining lights of Democracy and advocates of expatriation, Mungen and Golladay, had been found guilty of the same infamous business. We shall expect to see in the Enterprise next week a column devoted to Mungen and another to Golladay. Surely an impartial journal like the Enterprise professes to be cannot let these two sinners go by without an excoriation.

THE WEST

The Sutro Tunnel is in 782 feet in solid trachyte requiring blasting. There is no increase of water.

The recent Musical Festival at San Francisco for the benefit of the Mercantile Library, netted about fifty thousand dollars.

The San Francisco Call says: It is stated through the Chicago papers, that arrangements have been completed whereby clergymen of all denominations, can procure for themselves and families excursion tickets from Chicago to San Francisco and return for $128. Would it not be well, now the railroad companies have made a commencement of cheap fare, to reduce to all persons without distinction?

A dispatch received in San Francisco from William H. Webb denies the telegraphic report of the signing at London of a contract for a steam line between San Francisco and Australia. The Alta says the British Government will not do anything for the colonial steam lines and is of opinion that the only live project for a steam line between Sydney and San Francisco is one in which Americans are interested.

A Boise paper has intelligence from Willow Creek that everything bids fair for a prosperous mining season. Wright's ditch is completed and conveys 1 000 inches to the mines. The ditch is a splendid piece of work. Chinamen were at work on the Williams Claims to-day. The ground so far as prospected pays well and will be worked extensively this spring while the water lasts. There is an abundance of water in the Creek at present.

From a gentleman down from the mines on Middle Boise the Boise Chronicle learns the following. One company is at present busily at work. Bloomfield and McCall's ditch will be completed in about two weeks. Plume & Co have about two thousand feet of lumber on hand with which to build sluice boxes and a telegraph for a hydraulic. This lumber was whip sawed during the past winter. There are about twenty inches feet won on the claims of Plume & Co. The miners expect to have plenty of water and plenty of ground to work.

A San Francisco journal observes that it has been said that the inhabitants of California are averse to receiving greenbacks. This is so to a certain extent only. They have been pledged to receiving greenbacks in payment of gold debts. They have always been ready to receive paper, but for what it was worth only. This is only fine, but it is truth to say that the merchants of California while opposed to receiving greenbacks for gold debts, have not been averse to paying out greenbacks for gold debts. In 1868 they payed in greenbacks at New York mill rates of dollars for merchandise bought at gold rates, but if any Oregon merchant had proposed to do the same thing with them they would have called it dishonorable. California made mill rates of money by this swindle upon the East. There is much virtue in business circles in California.

A very polite young man wishing to ask a young lady if he might speak to her a few moments, wanted to know if he could roll the wheel of conversation around the axletree of her understanding for a moment.

There were [illegible] deaths in the city during the past week.

At a meeting of the importers and jobbers of hardware of this city held yesterday the price of cut nails was advanced in the three western states to [illegible] with the remainder of the country will [illegible] about ten per cent during the last three months. A similar advance has taken place in other branches of trade will shortly follow.

CURRENT NOTES

The Quartermaster General has issued three more names from the Roll of Honor registering the names and graves of nearly forty thousand more of the dead heroes of the late army. By itself will make a volume of nearly three hundred pages.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 19th February says: The Senate yesterday took up the Mr. Williams (Oregon) resolution declaring it inexpedient to [illegible] the currency. This will be a test vote on the forbearance policy. It will also [illegible] to the West coming [illegible] and [illegible] to equitable [illegible] to the [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] the Senate can [illegible] firm. The [illegible] passed with [illegible] and apparently will [illegible].

The bill to refund the Revolutionary debt passed the House a few days ago and was subsequently up in the Senate. The House was born in Bedford county Pennsylvania in 1792 and is consequently [illegible] years of age. He served in the army during the Revolutionary War and was present at the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. When the war of 1812 broke out he was too old for active service but entered the army as a mail messenger. He has never applied for or received a pension from the Government never asks he says having enough of his own. He however he is poor and has petitioned Congress for a pension. He was introduced on the floor of the House by General Banks and after stating his age and history requested that he be granted the privilege of the floor. An impromptu subscription for the veteran's benefit was started among the members and upwards of a hundred dollars raised.

LANGUAGES IN SCHOOL.—Recently some of the School Trustees in New York recommended that the ancient Irish language be taught in the public schools of that city. Upon this the Chicago Times bases some rather humorous remarks. It says:

In this city the ancient German language is taught in the schools and some inferior specimens of the modern English. In Wisconsin they teach most of the languages of the globe in the schools the object being to give the State Legislature a standing excuse for ordering the Governor's message to be printed in all the known tongues of the world. But in most places there are some languages yet to be naturalized in public schools. Spanish is not taught in the public schools, yet it is one of the richest and most widely spoken languages in existence. As we are shortly to have Cuba and Mexico the Spanish language ought to be taught in the public schools. There are also the Norwegian, the Danish, the Slavonic, the Icelandic, the Gaelic, the Chippewa, the Cherokee, the Aztec, the Aldermanic, and a good many of the unpronounceable South American languages that might be taught in the public schools. But most of all it is thought that the English language ought to be taught in the public schools provided it be possible to find teachers that understand it.

CITY.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES Rev Mr Eliot delivered a sermon at Oro Fino last evening on the general subject of the Undertow of Portland The subject was introduced by comparing he vices which lurk in all parts of the city under gilded de coits, and in dark places to the undertow which is found beneath the incoming tides and surf on almost every ocean beach and which sometimes catches the boldest most expert swimmers and carries them out to sea and to death Portland, though a small city is a metropolis and has a stronger undertow of vice proportionally, than most other cities He had spoken upon previous sermons of some of these vices and on this occasion would not attempt to go over the entire field. The subjects dwelt upon more particularly, were those of gaming and unchastity He depicted in brief terms how these vices attracted, seized upon and then ruined their victims, and applied some practical common sense remarks to the excuses usually rendered by those who allow themselves to be carried off their footing, showing that such excuses are always insufficient inasmuch as it is the moral duty of every person to resist and flee away from the first temptation The sermon so far as it went to the vices prevalent in our midst was practical and instructive It was also embellished by several beautiful classical and scriptural quotations and illustrations and was thus a treat to the Addet to the higher departments of literature as well as an excellent lesson to the young and in experienced and to those who are just beginning to step into the ways which lead down to death

BRIEF MENTION —Hon J H Mitchell returned from Salem on Saturday last where he had been to attend the commencement (closing) exercises of the Willamet University, delivering a lecture on that occasion

The locomotive James B Stevens, Tracy, on will henceforth be housed at Mill No 2

WELL, HERE WE ARE —After nearly four years of [illegible] from this desk Leaderless finds [illegible] in the old arm chair, side by side with his fellows the Chief and his assistant, where he left exactly here, when he [illegible] Readers, we need not inform you, that we resume their labors with some [illegible] but if you were all present, we doubt the power to make it manifest to you and [illegible] however, we do not dare to presume could be accomplished, because we find that in four years the very extensive addition has been made to the circulation of the DAILY and WEEKLY Oregonian the city has more than doubled in its [illegible] directly, the shipping and means of [illegible] inland has largely increased, and [illegible] about us, on all hands, are to be seen [illegible] in of a state of prosperity really marvelous in city so young as this It would be a [illegible] impossibility for us to [illegible] the to you just how we feel in regard to [illegible] things, so we shall let that pass, and [illegible] to business If you have any [illegible] in your mind, of general interest, [illegible] glad to make a note of it

CATTLE TRADE —Cattle raising has been [illegible] a rich income to the valley farmers [illegible] the demand has been [illegible] of the supply, so much so that [illegible] have often been sorely put to test [illegible] to supply their stalls with beef [illegible] of young stock for east of the Cascade [illegible] drawn a very active business, and [illegible] stock of the best which is to be constant of the mountains, will return from the [illegible] of Eastern Oregon As result of this [illegible] income to it, it is gratifying to witness [illegible] capital coming from abroad Dr [illegible] of Wasco county, returned from California by the [illegible] ship Moses Taylor, reaching this [illegible] Friday evening, and he brings with him [illegible] of valuable stock, which will be an acquisition to that part of the State of much import [illegible] line. True, there are in Oregon very many [illegible] of finer excellent cattle, but the more [illegible] the better it will be as such importations properly construed to be amongst the [illegible] ends of our State

TO HORSE OWNERS —We hope we shall not be [illegible] throwing an obstacle in the way of livery stable owners when we give house [illegible] advisory word Not to take a horse [illegible] with them upon their search One [illegible] on Saturday, taught us three [illegible] on this point. 1st, that it vexes the horse [illegible] to anything but improved streets [illegible] 2d, that it "irritates" the driver, [illegible] that there are no vacant houses to [illegible] unpaved, or partly planked streets [illegible] 3d, as a natural inference, that the [illegible] owner, (who is opposed to street improvements in the light of his own interest [illegible] I is usually have souls, like other [illegible] and they dislike to live in a locality which [illegible] be approached by wading through [illegible] a Greek word, signifying "be [illegible] driven yourselves accordingly"

[illegible]—On Saturday last, a young man [illegible] Harrington, employed by Ben Holladay & [illegible] at Mill No. 2, was injured by the falling of a [illegible] upon him. He was properly cared [illegible] by order of Mr Holladay, his expenses [illegible] Doctor's Bill will be paid by the company, and [illegible] he will be regularly allowed him A similar [illegible] to the occurred in Clackamas county [illegible] by which Mr J J Dawson, an [illegible] bridge carpenter, broke one of his low[illegible], and has since been unable to work He [illegible] a poor man, and the accident which caused [illegible] the injury being unavoidable, this company have rendered him every assistance needed since the occurrence

HAUGH AND STITZEL —Meeting on the [illegible] on Saturday last, Messrs Jacob Stitzel and [illegible] Harbaugh in a carriage, and observing the latter to be an invalid, we learned upon inquiry that he had been quite ill for some considerable time, and that this was his first out door exposure since his sickness. The names of these gentlemen have long been together identified in the business of Portland, but for some years they have not thus associated. Yet this act speaks of an [illegible] existing between them which is very creditable to the gentlemen We are pleased to know that Mr Harbaugh's health is rapidly improving

EPISCOPALIAN SERVICES —Yesterday morning, at Trinity Church a most excellent discourse was given by the Rector, Rev Mr Stoy, appropriate to the first Sunday in Lent Appointments were made for services on Wednesday next at 11 o'clock at Trinity Church where the rite of confirmation will be administered also a discourse will be delivered at St. Stephen's Chapel on Thursday evening Rev J W Sellwood of St Paul's church, Oregon City yesterday A M officiated upon the subject of the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation.

AN OASIS —Like the diamond in the desert was the singing of a sailor in the galley of the bark Whistler yesterday morning which we listened to as we sauntered along the wharves in quest of an item, amidst idle loungers neglected boys, native Celestials and Indians His notes were indeed as the fertile spots covered by verdure and watered by springs scattered about the great sandy deserts of Africa Scarcely another sound was heard in the vicinity—and the stillness of the hour of course added interest to the scene

VETERANS —At a meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department held at the Council Chamber on Saturday evening J Koenig Wm Young Thos G Young Alexander Dodge, A M Sherkey Thos Glennon Philip Hornung P Gatens T J Johnson members of Columbian Engine Co No 3 and W H Weed of Wallamet Engine Co No 1 were placed up on the retired list, and each granted an Exempt Certificate. The board adjourned to meet again on Saturday evening April 2d 1870

CONCORD CARRIAGES —There is now a large stock of Concord carriages in store and for sale by the San Francisco agents of Abbott Downing & Co., as will be seen by advertisement in another column

AQUATIC NAVIGATION Judging by the numbers of wild geese which appear to be coming from Southern Oregon or British Columbia this early plenty presented to make last the summer visitants these aquatic fowls must have lost their solidity and temptful nature because again spring is near the first green fields in the spring and summer [illegible] like first signs of the sun's warmth had informed them they at once take to sea [illegible] shasta perhaps by telegraph

INQUEST —Yesterday afternoon a man [illegible] accidentally under the influence of laudanum [illegible] a Chinaman on the street and [illegible] him over the head for the excuse that would learn of but because he was an [illegible] The assailant was speedily taken [illegible] perhaps be called to an account [illegible] Recorder Andrews [illegible] Incidentally we learn that the prisoner has heretofore been [illegible] by no means a disagreeable person

WEATHER &c The pleasant weather of Saturday was of short duration The atmosphere tempered down to its first principles about 4 o clock and the promenaders at the Plaza Mahonee [illegible] scattered homeward in a lively shower Yesterday was partly another spring like day however and if the men of area know at night may be rated as of any value perhaps we shall have future pleasant days succeeded [illegible]

POSTMASTER —NEWS ITEM The furniture sale of which advertisement was made on Saturday by A B Richards on it will be seen has been changed postponed until to morrow morning at the same hour The advertisement of Mr Richardson this morning contains valuable items for the trade

MUSIC BY THE BAND —The usual exercises took place at on upon and about the Plaza Saturday afternoon and being a day of much sunshine an unusual attendance by the youth and beauty of our lovely and growing city was noted

VICE ADMIRAL PORTER AND THE NAVY —The House Naval Committee received a letter from Vice Admiral Porter, February 15th, strongly opposing the giving of rank to the staff officers of the navy In the course of his remarks Admiral Porter makes use of the following extraordinary language concerning the staff and navy

These gentlemen of the staff who are applying for absolute rank are already calculating among themselves how they are going to disorganize the navy, and have matters arranged to suit themselves, and the result will be a worse state of affairs than existed during Welles' time I feel it my duty to do all I can to resist this encroachment on naval discipline as long as I can bring an argument to bear against them, and it shall not be said that legislation went wrong because those officers who should have had the best interests of the service at heart failed to place this matter in its true light No one objects to the relative rank which fixes the status on shipboard of any Staff officer and no one desires that they should be subjected to any inconvenience that a line officer would not be subjected to I have sailed many years in the navy with staff officers holding very inferior positions from what they do now, and the navy was in a most efficient condition I am afraid its glory will depart in this sweeping attempt to ignore its discipline

LIVELY OLD GIRLS —A writer in the New York Independent referring to Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B Anthony, says

Such is dyspepsia The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added too that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper
The invigorating and tranquilizing operations of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging A mild glow pervades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated The improvement is not transient It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when unmedicated stimulants are given for the complaint. Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration But this is not all The aperient and anti bilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile the secretion is soon brought within proper limits and if the biliary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated The effect upon the disordering organs is equally salutary and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the surface which is particularly desirable when sudden changes check the natural perspiration and produce congestion of the liver coughs and colds The best safeguard against all diseases is bodily vigor and this the great Vegetable Restorative essentially promotes

NINETEEN AND TWENTY LIVES LOST THE CREW SAVED BY THE IRON STEAMER BOMBAY.

A letter of the 2d inst contains a full account of the loss of the U. S. steamer Oneida, taken from the Japan Gazette of Jan. 29th, from which we condense the following:

On the 24th of January, within a few miles of Yokohama, the steamer Bombay ran into the U. S. steamer Oneida, the latter sinking in less than fifteen minutes. The fated steamer had just started for sea, with a complement of officers and men numbering 176, all of whom but 56, including Dr. Suddard and three junior officers, were lost. One of the men saved from the Oneida gives the following account:

On passing Saratoga Spit, the wind being strong, the fires were banked and the steam was reserved to be blown off. About seven o'clock, when the officers were at dinner, the lookout man on the forecastle sang out, "Steamer lights ahead," and the midshipman, also on the forecastle, gave the order, "Port the helm." Everything seemed to be all right on board the other steamer as to lead to the belief that she had not observed the Oneida, although her lights were burning brightly. The steamer, now known to be the P. & O. steamer Bombay, came right on, and ran into the Oneida, striking her on the starboard side, aft the gangway, at about half way between the main and mizzen rigging, cutting a hole in the side of the Oneida, through which the whole interior of the engine room was visible, carrying away the gig, binnacle, wheel and rudder, killing the two men at the wheel on the spot. All the officers who were then on deck rushed up, and sail was immediately ordered. It was evident to all that the ship was in a total wreck. The Bombay did not stop, but proceeded on her way; and as soon as guns happened to be loaded under the circumstances already detailed, they were fired at short intervals to attract attention of the Bombay, and to bring her back. The effort had been given to "lower away the boats," but the life boat was the only one available; as the cutter was in the cradle inboard, and as already stated, the gig had been carried away. The life boat was manned. Dr. Suddard, a boatswain, and fifteen of the crew going aboard of her. Three guns were fired, but before the sixth could be fired the vessel sank. The life boat was obliged to leave the side of the sinking ship, to avoid being upset or swamped by her. The whole must have been over within ten minutes after the collision. None of those saved saw a man or heard a voice on board the Bombay.

When there was evidently no hope of saving the ship, the officers gathered around Capt. E. P. Williams, on the poop, and he was heard to say that he would not leave the ship; if she went down he would sink with her.

When the crew of the life boat, after pulling about awhile saw none of the crew floating, not one of all the 150 who went down, they pulled to land, which was about five miles distant, they reached the boat about 8:10 P. M., and were kindly treated by the natives on shore, and having obtained the assistance of one of them as guides, they started to walk to Yokohama, which they reached about daylight."

From another of the saved, we have, that when they saw that the Bombay was proceeding on her way, the life-boat attempted to overtake a large junk, to induce it to come to their assistance, as the junk running before the wind, they were unable to catch up with her, and turned around to go back to the ship, but they could not see her. They then attempted to make for the place where they thought they had left her, but they ran too high, and they could not make it, and so turned around and rowed for the shore.

The Bombay was ordered back to the scene of the wreck by Capt. Stanhope, R. N. The Yangtze lieutenant, having on board the United States Minister, Mr. DeLong. As the latter was steaming down, the Bombay was sighted returning. She was hailed and asked if she had any of the crew; she replied that she had thirty nine men on board including two officers; the United States Minister then sent a request that the men might be put aboard of the Yangtze, but they objected. He therefore sent aft order, which was quickly obeyed. These men were saved in the cutter that was in the wreck and floated when the ship sank.

A naval court martial is being held. The examination at Capt. Eyre, of the Bombay, gave a plain account of his proceedings, and his reasons for passing on to Yokohama, such as must produce a very different impression in men's minds from the statement of the men who were saved from the wreck; and if confirmed by further evidence, must remove the stigma of inhumanity from his name.

The excitement at Yokohama has been very great, and the feeling against the Captain of the Bombay is intense.

The passengers on board the Bombay were quite surprised when they heard that such a calamity had befallen the vessel that they knew had been struck, and they all declare that they neither heard nor felt the Oneida to stay by them, for the minute gone

LADIES OF THE SEASON IN WASHINGTON.—We take the following from Harpers' Bazaar:

The young ladies in official society in Washington promise even more than is fulfilled by their elders at the capital. There is not only the ineffable charm of youth, but the charm of gentle breeding and womanly thought as well. Miss Boutwell knows almost as much as her father; she is a friend and confidential companion. She is not only interested in national subjects which absorb him, but she studies and understands them. One of whom a man, the very force of her conviction lent her power to express them would inevitably bear her into public life, and into Congress as a matter of course. And when the women vote she will take her seat there by natural birthright. Yet she is slight, sweet-faced girl, not little more than twenty, very simple in dress, and unobtrusive in bearing. It is only when you touch upon some national question, some theme requiring both investigation and thought, that her eyes grow large, and the thoroughly educated, self-poised, deeply thoughtful New England girl appears.

In lovely contrast to her is another girl from Massachusetts, Blanche Butler. She is by many considered the most beautiful girl in Washington, for she is as noted for the gentleness of her manners, the loveliness of her disposition, as for her beauty. She is one of nature's rare blondes, unspoiled by art. Her hair is the pure auburn gold, and its gleaming coils are all her own by birthright. Her complexion is very fair, and her cheeks wear the soft glow of the peach. All her features are fine, especially her brow and faultlessly arched eyebrows. She has little vivacity, her bearing is very quiet and gentle. She is domestic in her tastes, and much as she is admired, is even more beloved. Miss Chandler, of Michigan, is also a blonde. Her face is not beautiful, only so far as it is made so by a pair of very pleasant eyes and a marked kindliness of expression. But she is a very elegant girl in figure, bearing and costume. She, as well as Miss Butler, is an only daughter. All that wealth and love can lavish upon her lends its aid to increase her charms. And yet the most charming thing about her is what no wealth or idolizing parents can bestow upon her. It is essentially her own—winning, radical kindness which flows out spontaneously to the stranger and unknown quite as much as to those who pay homage to her wealth and position. A very positive addition to the official social circle of Washington this winter will be the two daughters of Senator Fenton of New York. Josephine Fenton, in doing the honors of the Governor's mansion at Albany, lost the ingenuous grace which characterized her as a school girl, and merged into an elegant, stately, self-conscious young lady of society. She has much more than ordinary intelligence and beauty, and when time and experience have mellowed her life and taken from transitory honors their first glamour, we predict that the gentle heart of the schoolgirl will again reign supreme in the character of the mature, beautiful woman of the world.

The free trade wil against "hot house industries" has grown dull with use. Thrust at Thiers in the Commercial Treaties debate in the Corps legislatif, the statesman thus parried the idiotic taxidermy: "A hot house industry! Well, gentlemen, what nations are those which seek to dovel labor within themselves? They are the intelligent and free nations. The nature of a free and intelligent people is such, that when any product—for example, a woven stuff—is brought among them from another country, after using it for a time and proving it, they endeavor to imitate it—to produce it among themselves. What nations are they which never feel this desire? They are the barbarous and indolent nations of the East. Did any one ever hear of Turkey or Persia creating manufactures to rival the products of France and England? On the contrary, it is the first instinct of intelligent nations to endeavor to make for themselves that which comes to them from abroad, and not to buy from strangers what the nature of their climate does not prevent them from making for themselves."

An orcnange says. Mungen, the Ohio Congressman who declared for repudiation and printed the indecent speech which he never delivered, is found to have been implicated in the sale of West Point cadetships. This is in accordance with the eternal fitness of things. But Mungen sold himself cheap—only $400.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, March 5, 1870

The dispatches of to-day report the decline of gold in New York to 112⅞, the lowest figure touched since 1865. There was great excitement in the Gold Room, and all mercantile circles were depressed in consequence.

At the above rate for gold, legal tenders would be strong at 89¢. A late quotation here is probably 88½@89¢.

The dispatches also bring in news of the commutation of specie payments (a making changes by the merchants of numerous places at the East.

The hardware merchants of San Francisco have revised their prices on all leading articles, a step made necessary by the late decline of gold. They have also taken steps to form a Board of Trade. Action is to be taken, doubtless, in view of the relative values of coin and paper currency, and the consequent unsteadiness of prices on the Coast. Merchants generally here, should take similar action, otherwise, trade must be of no very much at hap hazard.

The damaged portion of the cargo of the bark Edward James, late from New York, will be sold at auction on Wednesday, by Mr. A. B. Richardson, at his auction room on the corner of Front and Oak.

A San Francisco telegram to the Call, says the Alaska seal fisheries will be rented at $50,000 per year.

The steamer Continental, which arrived at San Francisco from Mexico on the 4th, brought up $500,000 in treasure.

The local markets are without noticable change. Basing our conclusions on the latest intelligence from the markets in which we sell our produce, there is no reason for expecting any immediate improvement in prices of any of the leading articles. There is a temporary demand in San Francisco for wool and hides, and prices are firm but without change. Flour and grain stand at about the same figures as heretofore quoted. There is no export demand for dairy produce, and prices are weak—butter, especially.

The brig Byrnatium arrived Feb. 28th, at Victoria, from Sandwich Islands, with a cargo of Island produce, filling that market for the present. Of late quite a number of lumber carrying vessels have arrived at that port from San Francisco. Having no other freights they have taken merchandize, as they could get it at very low figures, thus stopping off a portion of the trade which this city has enjoyed for the past year. This state of things is merely incidental, however, and probably not to be of long duration. Our merchants, with the proper policy, will retain the bulk of the Victoria and Puget Sound trade.

The Colonist of the 1st inst. has the following paragraph: "The dull times on Puget Sound render an exodus in the spring imperative. A large number of the sojourners at the various towns will go to Cariboo or Peace River, and many farmers after they have finished planting will follow. As the indications are that William and other crooks will be nearly depopulated in the spring in favor of the new diggings, most of the Puget Sounders intend settling at Cariboo, upon ground known to be auriferous, and awaiting there the result of the spring's prospecting at Peace River."

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax is telegraphed to sail for Portland next Thursday.

The bark Welgfast arrived at San Francisco on Friday, the 4th, from Portland.

The bark Whistler completed discharging cargo on Saturday. She is up for a produce freight, for San Francisco.

A dispatch from Seattle announces the arrival of the California at that place Friday evening. She is advertised to sail again from this port on Tuesday, March 15.

The tugboat Astoria went down the river on Saturday.

USE NONE BUT THE BEST!

Thousands of worthless preparations are scattered broadcast over the land, purporting to be SPECIFICS for Consumption. Some may possess a little merit, but when it is known beyond the possibility of successful contradiction, that NEW ELIXIR PULMONARY SYRUP has accomplished all it claims for the CURE of CONSUMPTION, and that it is already in the hands of thousands of restored fellow citizens, who are willing to make affidavit to that effect, it is useless for persons requiring such a remedy to waste the "golden moments" in experimenting with any other. It is equally so, in able and effectual in all cases, young or old Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering on a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, sunken faces and their forms broken down—countenances, disqualifying them for the performance of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible condition thousands suffer until death claims the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to these cases before suffering is in any of those horrible life destroying maladies—so that they are cured before ruin and misery follow. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon; such cases who have made private disease their especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most unfortunate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be aware of the many pretenders of every description of advertising quacks, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. By the reports of the Health Officer, it will be seen that all the following named cases are from this city, or have been for a short time, and can be referred to:
